Leveraging ChatGPT for Reviewing and Refining Grant Proposals

The review and refinement process is critical to the success of grant proposals, ensuring clarity, coherence, and persuasiveness. Public health professionals often have the challenge of articulating complex ideas while aligning with grant criteria. ChatGPT can be an invaluable tool in this process, providing suggestions to improve the quality of the narrative. After drafting, you can use ChatGPT to review specific sections, paragraphs, or sentences. Below are examples of how you can leverage ChatGPT effectively, organized into four core areas.
